Chapter 3 THE BEGINNINGS OF GOVERNMENT IN THE UNITED STATES

The roots of American government reach deep into the past. Our system of government did not suddenly spring into being as if the wave of some political magician's wand. Nor was it pulled out of thin air by the

The Colonial Period

Our English Heritage. The French, Spanish, Dutch, Norwegian, and other Europeans settled in parts of what was to become the United States. But it was the English who came in the largest numbers. And it was the English who came to control the thirteen colonies that stretched for 1,200 miles along the Atlantic seaboard.

These early pioneers who cleared the wilderness and fought off the Indians had to look out their own future in the New World. But they came here in search of greater freedom and they brought with them the Founding Fathers of Philadelphia in the summer of 1776. They were men who had developed through long centuries of experience, tradition, thought, and deed. We shall now review the first points of their heritage.

First and foremost brought with them the concept of limited government. They brought with them the concept of a government that should be based on the consent of the governed. They brought with them the concept of a government that should be based on the consent of the governed. They brought with them the concept of a government that should be based on the consent of the governed.

SETTLERS AT WORK

Early Americans had to live together in harmony, or they would not survive. This was called "government in order to live," the beginning of our government today.

of which are to be found today: county, township, jury, sheriff, constable, and justice of the peace, for example. And all of these were well-known in England long before the first Englishman ever heard of America.

(1) The Two Concepts of Limited Government and Civil Liberties. They brought with them, too, the twin ideas of limited government and civil liberties. That is, that government is not all-powerful; that government is limited in what it may do, and, especially, that it is limited in the sense that each man has certain rights that government cannot injure or take away. These great principles of freedom were proclaimed in such historic English documents as the Magna Carta in 1215, the Petition of Right in 1628, and the Bill of Rights and the Act of Toleration of 1689.

(2) The Concept of Representative Government. A third vitally important concept brought to America in English ships was that of representative government. For centuries there had been developing in England the

STUDENT COUNCIL

The American Field Service was the main interest of the Beloit High Student Council this year. Stuco raised money for this organization by sponsoring dances, coke breaks, selling stock, and staging the annual benefit AFS basketball night. The Student Council also painted the picnic tables of the Beloit Lutheran Park. One big highlight of the year was the basketball homecoming, where the "Dinks" played for the after-game dance held at the Elementary School.

AFS student, Bobby Wood, enjoys school activities.

BASKETBALL

Coach Herb Stange, in his first year as head Trojan Basketball coach, guided his cagers to a four win fifteen loss record. But the record isn't as bad as it seems. The Trojans lost 4 heartbreakers by three or less points. At the close of the season, the team chose Larry Miltner and Scott Griffith as co-captains for the 65 '66 season.

TRACK

With Coach Bob McVicker ending his sixth successful year as head track coach of the Trojan thinclads, the '66 Team ended up a close second in the NCKL and a second in the Beloit Relays. Steady improvement was the earmark of this year's team. The Trojan track squad chose three seniors as their tri-captains. They were Dave Stone, Roger Prochaska, and Gerald Hansen. Mark Torr scored a total of 7 points in the state track meet with a first place in the shot put and a fifth placing in the discus. Mark was one of two Beloit entrants in the meet.
